

Mysteries of the mind

starring

Paul Draper

Imagine –

You could know what your friends were feeling;
harness your mind's power to bend solid objects;
read the minds of others.

Paul Draper does this and more – all while putting on a great show!

Mysteries of the mind

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to have super-powers?

Mysteries of the Mind is an interactive entertainment experience in which Paul Draper leads audience members to discover their own hidden powers of the mind – and thus become the stars of the show!

Perfect for meetings, seminars, luncheons, universities and theaters, the show provides entertainment and intellectual excitement in equal doses. Over the years, it has proven to provide powerfully effective transformational tools for building leadership, inspiring sales teams, and helping various groups build diversity initiatives.

What happens in Mysteries of the Mind? Draper tells people things they're thinking about. He reads their minds! That's not the only amazing thing:

Paul begins by asking audience members to think of any fairy tale or song from their childhood. Then, he tells them exactly which one they're thinking of! Later in the show he harnesses the collective minds of his guests to bend metal objects without touching them. He has the audience work in teams, and shows them how they can harness their own ability to read one another's minds – and they succeed!

Sometimes inviting guests to the stage, sometimes moving actively amongst the audience, Paul Draper moves the show forward with the confidence and skill born of long experience.

Paul's mind-blowing finish begins as he psychically finds and describes objects, people and places while completely blindfolded in thick layers of duct tape. Holding a bare hand and a sleeveless arm over objects supplied by audience members, Draper accurately describes those objects, reproduces drawn images, and provides detailed information about the people who supplied the items. He even answers questions they are thinking about!

The entire audience is involved. Everyone is excited to find out what we will find out next. Everyone wants to know what is on his or her co-workers mind – and Paul shows them just how to do it!

Read minds, influence thoughts, get your messages across.

Sound incredible? Phenomenal? Unbelievable? Just wait until you experience it live!

starring
Paul Draper

Paul Draper

Mysteries of the mind

"When we envisioned the performer we wanted to represent our booth (JVC), let's just say, you far exceeded our expectations!"

– Dave Walton, Vice President of Marketing, JVC

"Cooking is like magic, but you do the real magic. Do you have any magic recipes in your bag for me?"

– Wolfgang Puck

"I have seen magic many times, but I have never had my mind blown, until I met Paul Draper!"

– Dana Snyder, the voice of Master Shake on Comedy Central's "Aqua Teen Hunger Force"

"Paul was awesome!!! I want to thank you and Paul again for accommodating our event on such short notice..."

– David T. Vena, Director of Sales for VORTECHX Applied Technologies

"In my country, you could start your own religion."

– Nokia Sales Manager from North India

"Thank you again for the part you played in making our staff retreat so successful. Your program was the perfect ending to two days of workshops. The staff left with smiles. Good luck in whatever you choose to do - You are extremely talented and versatile."

– Laurell Martinez, College of Arts and Humanities,
Weber State University

"A Man for All Seasons!"

– Callback News, Las Vegas

"You were/are just terrific. Thank you, Thank you. We love you and are so glad you are a part of our team!"

– Joan W. Smith, DSW Executive Director,
National Conference of Community and Justice (Utah)

Meet Paul Draper

Imagine yourself deep beneath the pyramids of Egypt, trying to ferret out ancient secrets. What daring would it take to go and interview cannibals in their own native habitats? For many, these challenges aren't nearly as frightening as being asked to give a presentation before thousands of people. How would you feel standing before a room of 2,500 people, claiming you can read their minds, and betting them you can prove it? Could you do it? Paul Draper does all this and more on a regular basis, and, through his shows and lectures, is happy to take you along for the adventure.

Paul is a modern day renaissance man, with multiple talents and interests – all of which contribute to Mysteries of the Mind. A deep interest in the way people's minds and emotions work prompted him at a young age to study psychology and anthropology, and he pursued those studies to the point where he is now a frequent lecturer at national conferences in communications and anthropology and a much sought after expert for television projects ranging from specials on Houdini on the History Channel to a special commentary on spirits for the newly released version of Steven Spielberg's Poltergeist.

A love of people and performing has led Draper to a multi-faceted career as an actor/singer/magician... and now to create his own unique Mysteries of the Mind show and workshop, in which he shares many of his wide ranging interests and adventures in a completely new and unique format.

Paul's love of humanity has led him to work as a diversity trainer, a big brother, and entertainer. His warmth and interest in his audiences forms a strong component of all his shows. His unusual skills are built on an uncanny talent for reading the thoughts and the emotions of others. He uses these talents to entertain and to teach us how we all can better our lives by building our own abilities for creating rapport and our sensitivity to the feelings and needs of others. This is a performer who will entertain your audiences, and help transform them in positive ways.

His experience as a performer and speaker, both in his native Salt Lake City and for the past several years in Las Vegas, gives Paul's show a polish and professionalism that creates a comfort and sense of ease in his audiences. Paul recently appeared alongside David Copperfield, Lance Burton and Teller as an expert on the History Channel's special "Houdini: Unlocking the Mystery." Paul has for the past year been the "magician in residence" at the Venetian Hotel & Resort on the Las Vegas strip, chosen to entertain their high-roller and celebrity clientele.

Now your guests can join the ranks of the high rollers and enjoy the thrill of sharing in Paul's adventures through his "Mysteries of the Mind" shows and lectures.

Mysteries of the mind
starring
Paul Draper